CATERINA MORO

R O M A

The concept of “daily luxury” is the main inspiration for the new FW2021 Caterina Moro collection. A collection that moves silently through the woods, inheriting the texture of bark, the crackle of leaves during autumn hikes, and the chromatic variations of the sky to shape them all into long dresses, shirt and trouser combinations, and long skirts of sophisticated taste. The “leaf pleat” applied to satin, denim and eco-leather, decorated with fringing and embroidery, echoes the shapes of autumn leaves, while the prints on Wastemark fabrics (leftover pieces of fabric that are recycled instead of being thrown away) and sustainable dyes make the collection sustainable, a goal the designer has been seeking since her very first collection.

The softness of velvet and cashmere, and the preciousness of silk and satin, synthesize a new idea of elegance and demi-couture in a contemporary key.

Periwinkle is once again the chromatic anchor of the collection, alternating between the neutral tones of white and beige and the warm tones of mustard and brown.

The Caterina Moro collection marks another courageous course toward a feminine, fine, and elegant imagery, defining a new and personal concept of style.

Il lusso quotidiano è l'idea istintiva della nuova collezione FW2021 di Caterina Moro. Una collezione che si muove silenziosamente tra i boschi, ereditando le texture corteccia, il crepitio delle foglie nelle passeggiate autunnali e le variazioni cromatiche del cielo per regalarle a long dress, completi blusa e pantaloni e long skirt dal sapore sofisticato. Il "plissé foglia" declinato su raso, denim e ecopelle, arricchito da ricami e frange lignee, riporta le trame delle foglie autunnali, mentre le stampe con tessuti Wastemark, residui di produzione recuperati che altrimenti sarebbero andati al macero, e le tinte bio segnano la svolta green che la designer inseguiva fin dalla sua prima collezione. La morbidezza del velluto e del cachemire e la preziosità della seta e del raso sintetizzano in chiave contemporanea un nuovo concetto di eleganza demi-couture. Il periwinkle conferma il cardine cromatico della collezione, ora alternandosi ai toni neutri del bianco e del beige, ora conversando con nuance calde come il senape e il marrone. Ancora una volta la collezione Caterina Moro segna un percorso coraggioso verso un immaginario femminile votato all'eleganza e alla raffinatezza, scrivendo nel proprio vocabolario quotidiano una nuova e personale definizione di stile.
