Accessories

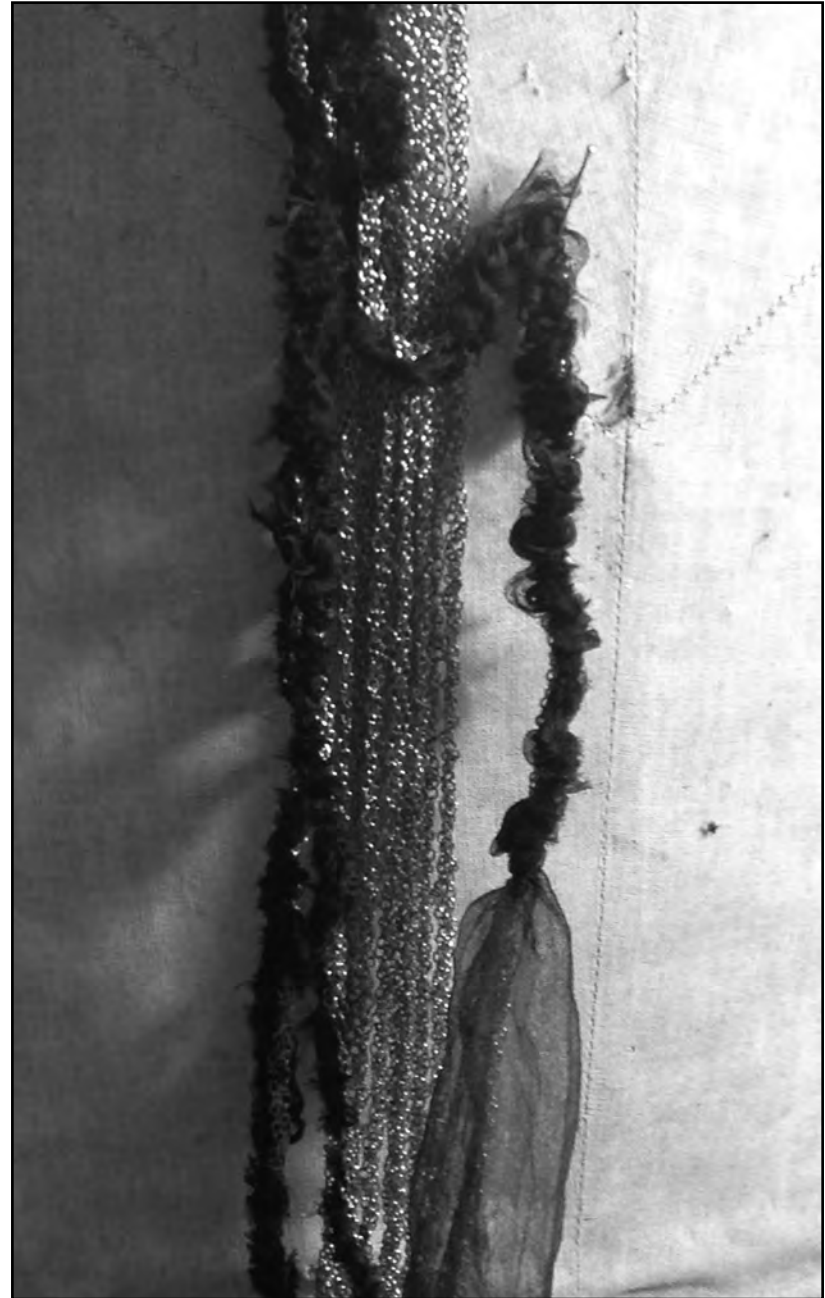

Jean François Mimilla's jewelry collections are handmade and produced in his Paris studio. Special attention is given to working with each material, resulting in collections with a focus on fragile and delicate elements. Materials include antique and blown glass beads from 1920 to 1930, as well as Swarovski crystals. Chains and rings are made in stainless steel, clasps and earrings in silver, while combining natural materials such as wood and leather. In accordance with French regulation, Jean-François Mimilla's jewelry is nickel free.
