SONY

VANS

Representing Uozu, Toyama prefecture, one of the richest fishing grounds of Japan, Yuta Hamada is an up-and-coming hope of Japanese chefs, specializing in pairing with Sake, for himself being licensed sommelier. He was a finalist of RED U-35, All Japan's gastronomy championship of any style.

Yoshida Shuzo Brewery was founded in 1870 in the Hokuriku region, one of the best-known rice producing areas of Japan. The brewery owes its long history of quality sake manufacturing from the local rice and superior water from Mount Hakusan. For over 140 years, Yoshida sake has been a favorite of locals and people all over Japan.
